Dear Ms. Dunitz,

Please join us for A Salute to Neighborhoods and the dedication of Worlds Apart Come Together, a mural by artist Eva Cockcroft and neighborhood youth. Worlds Apart Come Together was created in partnership with the Long Beach Area Convention & Visitors Bureau, the Public Corporation for the Arts and the Department of Parks, Recreation & Marine Mural Arts Program.

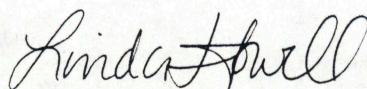

A commemorative "gift" from the neighborhoods in celebration of the newly expanded Long Beach Convention & Entertainment Center, the mural dedication is scheduled for Wednesday, October 19, from 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. in front of the Terrace Theater at 300 East Ocean Boulevard in downtown Long Beach. Free parking is available in the Terrace Theater parking garage.

The dedication ceremony recognizes neighborhood youth and professional artists who have collaborated on the dozens of murals created in Long Beach over the past nine years through the Mural Arts Program. A new full-color brochure highlighting a selection of these outstanding murals will be presented at the dedication.

The Salute to Neighborhoods, also features music from One Percussion, refreshments, and souvenir pogs and T-shirts for the young artists who have participated in the mural projects.

We hope you can attend this grand reopening event that commemorates community spirit in Long Beach, celebrates the unique aspects of our neighborhoods and cultivates young talent.

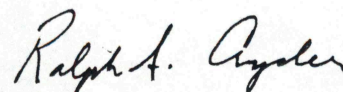

We look forward to seeing you on October 19th at 4:00 p.m.
